Thirty-nine years after he left France, former Gestapo boss Klaus Barbie returned under force, extradited from his Bolivian refuge in 1983. In one of the most publicized trials of the decade, the so-called Butcher of Lyons was sentenced to life in prison for torturing Jewish prisoners and sending nearly 8,000 to Nazi death camps.

OPPOSITE:
In 1988 Ernst Zundel, a Toronto graphic artist, was sentenced to nine months in jail for promoting hatred against Jews. In a pamphlet entitled "Did Six Million Really Die?" Zundel claimed that the Holocaust was a hoax.
